COURSE DESCRIPTION

The topic of leadership will be studied through the examination of the key skills of a leader and the main theories of leadership. Students will also learn to differentiate individuals as leaders, team leadership and organizational leadership. Role playing and simulation exercises in the classroom will bring to life the course material; consequently, students will better evaluate their understanding of course material and discover how leadership skills can be applied in their own personal and professional lives. Guest lecturers from the business community will further reinforce this emphasis on real-world applicability of course content.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Define leadership
- Recognize the skills needed by leaders
- Explain leadership traits
- Discuss the ethics of leadership
- Explain leadership behaviour
- Explain situational leadership
- Describe the aspects of power involved in leadership
- Recognize leadership communication, coaching and conflict-resolution skills
- Describe the relationship between leaders and followers
- Identify the processes involved in team leadership
- Distinguish charismatic from transformational leadership
- Identify the role of leadership in organizational culture, ethics, and diversity
