Some of the best memories I had were in Coquitlam College because of its outstanding teaching faculty as well as the various clubs and activities that are offered to students every semester. All these extracurricular activities made me enjoy my studies and I have made a lot of friends along the way, and created memories that I will treasure for a lifetime.

Associate of Arts Degree

Studying at Coquitlam College was a lifetime experience, it changed my perspective around the world, and it guided me to discover my path.

As a teenager, I struggled to define my career at such a young age. Thanks to the Associate of Arts degree, I was able to explore the possibilities that surrounded me, focusing on my abilities, and improving my skills. Coquitlam College provided me with tools that helped me reinvent and redefine myself.

Coquitlam College stands out for its excellence. I did not only become a great student, but also a great human being. I always thought that college life was a book that once you end, you close it and forget about it. But the best part of Coquitlam College is that all of what you learn and experience here, it becomes part of your daily life, so the book continues.

University Transfer Program

I came to Coquitlam College in September 2012 and set a goal to get accepted into Sauder School of Business at the University of British Columbia. I had to study hard but the teachers at Coquitlam College were so helpful. The College puts so much effort into activities that as a student you feel like you belong. It makes being away from your family a bit easier. In December 2013, I applied to the University of British Columbia, University of Toronto and Trent University and in early January, I got accepted to all three.

As a University Transfer student, I felt the pressure really was on me to do my best in all my classes, especially since I had set my sights on transferring to UBC to complete my studies at the Sauder School of Business. I really enjoyed my time at Coquitlam College. I found that the smaller class sizes really helped advance my education, giving more of an intimate setting with my professors and other students. I also enjoyed all the collaboration we were encouraged to do in and out of the classroom. I'm glad I chose Coquitlam College because I felt I had great support from everyone there, especially from my profs who made the connection between the material and everyday life, and from the academic advisors who helped me successfully complete my application for transfer. My two years at Coquitlam College helped me achieve my goal: after another two years, I graduated with Honours in the Finance specialization at the UBC Sauder School of Business.

I found Coquitlam College to be an ideal place to bridge the gap between high-school and university. The small class sizes were similar to high-school. This allowed students to focus on the class material and get to know the professor. The professors were willing to give extra help or discuss assignments, and office hours were available for all the classes I took.

The atmosphere at Coquitlam College is friendly and positive with a number of school events and trips throughout the year. My particular favourite was the fantastic camping trip offered in the summer semester. The credits are transferable, and the academic counsellors are very helpful and knowledgeable. With the help of Coquitlam College I was able to get into the university that I wanted to go to. I'd recommend this college as a starting place to anyone's post secondary career. It was my first step to success.

Associate of Arts Degree

I was an atom which could not find a path to steer me; this was the moment I joined Coquitlam College. When I started my study in 2020 September, I was just another nervous student whose basics were not that strong. I needed help and asked many questions to my teachers. I started observing more and practicing as much as I could. I believe that my success at Coquitlam College is not my own, but also belongs to many other people like my instructors who always supported me, my counsellors who were available instantly to guide me. I am thankful to the college staff, students, and the entire community for embracing me with open arms and helping me at every step of the way. I am not the tiny atom anymore, rather I feel whole and complete. I feel like I could circle the Earth.

I barely understood what was going on in class when I was an ESL student, but teachers at Coquitlam College assisted and guided me with great care and now I was able to get an Associate of Arts degree.

Coquitlam College is a small school compared to other colleges and universities, but that makes the bonds between teachers and students stronger.

Coquitlam College has plenty of extracurricular activities and events which made my school life fruitful. Friends I met at Coquitlam College were from all over the world which made the experience I had at Coquitlam College richer and irreplaceable.

One of the academic advisors at Coquitlam College whom I first met in Japan has truly changed my life. She has supported me throughout my stay in Canada in many ways, and she is like my mother in Canada now.
