COURSE DESCRIPTION

In Creative Writing 101 you will learn the value of close observation aligned with detailed description as the foundation of creative writing. In the first part of the course, you will read a cross section of poetic forms including haiku, light verse, ode, lyrical, and free verse, and you will do poetry writing exercises. You will watch and hear internationally recognized poets recite and discuss their poetry and philosophies of life, and you will discuss what you have seen and heard. Additionally, you will learn how to compose and edit your own free verse poetry and how to read it out loud. In the second part of the course you will read, analyze, and discuss a cross section of short fiction/creative non-fiction by internationally recognized master writers. In addition, you will apply what you learn about fiction/creative non-fiction to the writing and editing of your own short fiction/creative non-fiction.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Recognize the basic elements of poetry, fiction, and creative non-fiction including dialogue.
- Summarize a selection of poems and short fiction/creative non-fiction written by master poets and authors.
- Compose free verse poetry and short fiction/creative non-fiction.
